NEWS AND COMMENT.

THE oyster war at Oeracoke, in Hyde county, has ended.

EX-President GROVER CLEVELAND favors the Australian system of Ballot Reform.

THE exodus movement in the State of late has so badly demoralized the Republicans that in many of the counties no tickets will be put out at all, it is thought.

WARREN G. ELLIOTT, a railroad man of experience and ability, has accepted the Presidency of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company, with headquarters at Wilmington.

WHY not discard the claims of Washington City, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, and have the World's Fair right here in Fayetteville, and settle the matter at once? Audaces fortuna juvat.

SCORE another victory for CARLISLE, COWLES, O'FERRALL and BYNUM, and the Democratic party! They have licked Czar REED with all his partizan Republican allies, and forced them to adopt new rules.

TAMMANY HALL has declared in favor of GROVER CLEVELAND for President in '92. Here is another pointer: The New York Morning Journal has been polling its readers with a view to asscertaining who is the most popular man among them, with the following result: GROVER CLEVELAND, 80,383; HARRISON, 181.

IF Czar REED'S tyrannical rulings as Speaker of the House of Representatives, coupled with HARRISON'S failure as a President—an acknowledged fact all over the country—don't forever consign the Republican party to the archives of gravity, then we are content to believe that crime is on the increase, and the country is fast going to the dogs.

VIEWED in the light of subsequent events, we are of the opinion that the people of Guilford would be perfectly justifiable—from a moral standpoint, at least—in giving the social-equality teachers—JOYNER and CONNETT—ten days to "shake the dust" of that county from their feet; otherwise treat them to a dose of "tar and feathers." The Greensboro Patriot is making it too warm to be comfortable for these Northern emissaries to remain longer in Guilford for the practice of their devilment.

SENATOR INGALLS'S bombastic speech in the Senate, a few days since, on the race problem has made him the recipient of some interesting letters as well as curiosities in other respects. For instance, a few days or so ago he received a box which contained a "prescription" in the shape of a brass-capped cylinder resembling a cartridge very much, on which was written: "Election pills for old cuffs or for Ingalls, from Jackson, Mississippi." Upon examination the cartridge was found to be filled with powder and buckshot.

NORTH DAKOTA furnishes the public with an illustration of what the country is coming to should the Republican party remain in power. That State is bankrupted, the Rads having cleaned the Treasury at one fell swoop, and in order to keep the machinery of the State Government in motion the Legislature has found it necessary to pass a bill for the establishment of a lottery company, which institution is to pay to the State $30,000 for the franchise and $75,000 a year thereafter. The money you, will remember, is to be paid in advance.

DR. KINGSBURY, of the Wilmington Messenger, has been keeping a partial record of the deaths in North Carolina for many years, but says that "more prominent or distinguished men died during the year 1889 than in any previous year." We append herewith the list: "Chief Justice W. N. H. Smith, Rev. Dr. Charles Phillips, Prof. William G. Simmons, Prof. Ralph Graves, Gen. Collett Leventhrope, Hon. Wm. T. Dortch, Col. Tazewell L. Hargrove, Dr. Richard B. Haywood, Maj. John W. Dunham, Rev. Joseph E. Carter, Dr. Johnson B. Jones, Rev. Dr. Robert H. Morrison, Judge Thomas Ruffin, Dr. W. T. Ennett, Col. Leonidas C. Jones, Maj. Roger P. Atkinson, Maj. John Hughes, Rev. Dr. Wesley M. Robey, Gen. Daniel H. Hill, Rev. Dr. P. C. Henkel, Judge George W. Logan, Col. John Ashford, Stephen D. Wallace, Rufus T. McAden, Charles R. Jones, Eugene M. Morehead, Wilkin Roddick, Rev. James Purefoy, Col. John A. Young, George B. Kelley, William R. Pool, Dr. J. A. Hank, Capt. Calvin E. Grier, Col. Robert L. Watt, Dr. W. P. Mallett, Maj. E. L. Vaughn, Col. C. B. Killebew, Rev. Dr. Robert B. Anderson, Lewis Taylor, T. W. Hearn, Moses L. Holmes, Luke Blackmer, George M. Green, Rev. W. W. Kenneday, Rev. A. B. Alderman, Col. R. I. Page, Rev. Gaston Farrar, Capt. Wm. B. Boudinot, John Spellman, Dr. Pride Jones, John W. Thompson, Benj. J. Shannonhouse, Joseph D. Biggs, Dr. George C. Newby, B. B. Salisbury, Dr. Adam Clark Harris, Maj. W. S. Cole and Rev. Joseph Green." We rise to remark here that within the past two months fourteen deaths have occurred among the oldest residents of Fayetteville, the average age of each being about seventy-six years—a remarkable case of longevity.

A FOX HUNT IN NORTH CAROLINA,

And Participated in by Many Fayettevillians.

Helen Hawthorne in Detroit Free Press.

The stars were yet shining clear and bright in the dark blue of a winter morning sky, when the great bridge which spans the Cape Fear River resounded with the clatter of horses' hoofs and the merry voices of their riders. The "meet" was just beyond at the forks of the road that stretched away like a white ribbon toward a belt of pine forest. Beyond us lay the town—asleep, for 5 o'clock had not yet sounded from the old market house tower—before us a stretch of composite country: cotton fields, sandy wastes, piney woods and cypress swamps.

Awaiting the remainder of the party, and the appointed hour for the "start," the horses pawed, impatient; the hounds filled the clear, crisp air with their short yelps of eagerness denied; the ladies patted their hunters' glossy necks, and divided glances between their cavaliers and their rivals for the "brush;" while the gentlemen related anecdotes of former "runs," and feats of horsemanship.

One candidate for field honors, whose jolly round face fairly beamed with good humor, and who bestrode a gray Mexican pony of diminutive and bony proportions, bearing the high-sounding title of Don, frankly confessed that this was his first hunt, and innocently inquired if they jumped fences, solemnly declaring that if the fox was on one side of the fence and he on the other the fox was safe.

Doc, a beautiful bay hunter of Kentucky pedigree, was the mount of a typical North Carolina gentleman of the old regime. Suave, dignified and chivalric, combining gentleness, firmness, pride and kindliness under a mein gracious, manly and handsome, he rode with the ease of one accustomed to the saddle, and as though he felt the snows of many winters but lightly upon his head.

Judge, a powerful, coal-black animal, proudly carried a dark-eyed Carolinian belle whose habit set off to advantage a beautiful form. Rocket, mounted by the whipper-in, described ever-widening circles in his impatience to be off; and Dandy, a spirited little sorrel, curvetted and coquetted, pranced, pawed and tossed his head under the firm but gentle rein of a slender lady in navy blue habit and jocky cap.

Five o'clock! We are off! Don, Doc, Judge, Rocket and Dandy—hounds, horses and riders—away over the level sandy road, with the ghosts of a hundred-year old pines barring our way as the waning moon sheds its pale light through the stately, solemn aisles of the forest. The hounds are out of sight, but their baying startles the echoes in the lonely cypress swamp, and sounds across the open space with thrilling effect. The horses' ears are pointed forward. The riders no longer complain of the chill morning air, but, firm and erect in their saddles, listen intently for the unity of sound that shall indicate that the dogs have started the game.

There it is! A burst of triumph that penetrates and resounds through the piney recesses. Joy, eagerness, hope, anxiety, doubt and determination blend in that cry. Away! away! "What is that? A stray dog?"

"A fox, by jingo!" cries the foremost rider. "Crossed the road right under my horse's nose—confound it—they've missed that fellow—there he goes—he's safe!"

"Thou art so near, and yet so far," mockingly hums a rich contralto.

"The woods are full of them!" rings out a merry voice and Don speeds past.

"Keep the road till you reach the river, then to the left, or you'll miss them," is the warning shouted as Doc bounds forward for the lead.

Away! away! Trees, fences, pools, stumps, seem to fly. The wind whistles in our ears. The horses spurn the ground, while every nerve is tense. Away! past the cabin, where an open door reveals in a flash a group of woolly heads huddled over a freshly-lighted pine fire, through a long shallow pool of swamp water that covers the road for twenty yards. How the water flies! Faces, habits, horses, riders—all get their share. Who cares? That deep, full-throated cry is urgent. The hounds—the fox—the brush—think of them! Away! away! Over the narrow wooden bridge with a clatter—one—two—three! Where are the rest? No time to look—we are at the heels of the hounds—Doc, Dandy and Don! Off the road now—through the bare brown stalks of a cotton field—over a dividing ditch, and across a bit of plowed land. Hark!

"They are doubling back!" cries Don's rider. "We must cross that swamp or be too late!" Already Doc's hoofs are trampling the stars that gleam here and there from the black water. Dandy follows close. Don comes floundering over the furrows a little in the rear, a comical "do or die" expression on the rider's face. The giant pines meet overhead. The cypress cast a weird shadow in the waters they darken. The spongy turf yields beneath the horse's feet. Treacherous pools await the first misstep. On! On! Surely the shade of some old forest ranger leads the way! Now the hounds sweep into full sight—and see! not 100 yards away the fox is bayed! A deep, swift stream intervenes, but, yonder a bridge, only a few rough-hewn logs and loose boards, but, "Steady! Careful!" Doc has overturned a plank, leaving a gap, and Dandy—a struggle, a plunge; the blue habit and the sorrel are out of sight! How swift the water is! Will they NEVER rise? Yes, see! Bravo, Dandy! nobly done! Thank God! her foot caught in the stirrup, and Dandy did the rest.

The "brush?" O, yes! Dandy got the "brush."

Another Noted Escape.

Greensboro Patriot.]

The escape of Lige Moore recalls to the minds of old citizens the case of Romulus Chipman, who escaped from the old jail in 1856 on the Saturday night before the Friday on which he was to have been hung. He escaped to Mexico where he lived for years. In 1877, one Stewart swore that his brother on his death-bed confessed that he had killed the woman of whose murder Chipman had been convicted. On the strength of this affidavit Governor Vance pardoned Chipman, who has since been in Greensboro on a visit.

The Cosmopolitan.

The modern magazine may be taken as embodying the best literature of the world, as the magazine editor pays the highest prices to novelists, scientists, statesmen, soldiers, and even kings and princes, for the best they can furnish in the literary line. The well-edited magazine becomes an educating influence in the family circle, whose importance cannot be over-estimated. The children as they grow up, are attracted by its illustrations, and so come in time to have a taste for reading. There is always something that is new, something that is strange, something that is interesting, and we consider that we are doing our readers a positive benefit if we are instrumental in placing such a publication within their reach. The special arrangement which we have made with the Cosmopolitan presents very unusual inducements. The magazine, although only in the tenth month under its new managment, is already recognized as one of the most interesting publications of the day. It is seeking subscribers everywhere and obtaining them. The proprietors believe that the Cosmopolitan has only to be examined to secure a permanent subscriber. That is why we are enabled to make, if the offer is accepted before January next, such a very low rate, by which our readers can obtain the Cosmopolitan for little more than the cost of this journal alone. Just think of what the combination means! You obtain your own home journal at about the regular price, and have thrown in a magaziue which gives you, in a year, nearly fourteen hundred pages of reading matter by the ablest writers of the world, including six hundred pages of illustrations that are unsurpassed in point of interest and execution.

A Question of Discipline.

Texas Siftings.]

A German was boasting, in the presence of some Russians, about the obedience and discipline of the German army, citing numerous instances from the late war between France and Germany.

"Sir," replied one of the Russians, "what you say about the discipline in the German army amounts to nothing at all when compared with what occurs continually in the Russian army. But I will recite merely one incident which took place in the beginning of the reign of the Czar Nicholas, when the discipline in the Russian army was comparatively lax. At that time, before the telegraph was discovered, the Russians used signal stations, which were a few miles apart. The first soldier made a signal, which was repeated by the soldier at the next station, and thus the news was conveyed thousands of miles.

"One day a soldier at a station near St. Petersburg did not see the signal in time; and, dreading the punishment that awaited him for negligence, deliberately hung himself from the signal tower. The soldier at the next station mistook this for a signal, whereupon he promptly hung himself also—and, in consequence of the discipline prevailing in the Russian army, it was discovered next day that the soldiers at all the stations between St. Petersburg and Warsaw had hung themselves from their signal towers. Of course, a much stricter discipline prevails at present, and——"

"That will do," interrupted the German, "I give it up."

Why Heiresses do not Marry.

It is undoubtedly true that many heiresses remain unmarried because of their fear of fortune-hunters, writes the New York correspondent of the Globe-Democrat. Miss Jeunie Flood, who is now 32 years of age, remains single largely because she has no faith in the protestations of the men who come to woo her. Not long ago she received fifty love letters on fifty consecutive days from a young man whom she had met only two or three times, but who insisted on saying how beautiful she was and how much he was in love with her. Finally she wrote back and told him that his letters had no effect, and that it would be better for him to discontinue them.

Miss Celeste Stauffer, of New Orleans, to whom Samuel J. Tilden left $100,000, and who has been spending the summer at Lexon, is another rich girl who says she is not taking any chances of a matrimonial kind because she does not want to be married for her money. The same thing is undoubtedly true of Miss Gwendoline Caldwell, whose engagement to Prince Murat was recently broken off. Miss Huntington, the daughter of C. P. Huntington, the Southern Pacific magnate, who married Prince Hatzieldt, is 32 years old, and if Miss Tessie Fair, the daughter of Senator Fair, of California, continues to harbor her present suspicions against men generally, and class them all as fortune-hunters, she will probably reach the age of 32 before she marries.

Protection and Free Trade.

"What are 'Protection' and 'Free Trade,'
Of which so much I hear?"
I then kissed her, and she kissed me:—
"That is 'Free Trade,' my dear."

Next she asked, this winsome maid,
"And now what is 'Protection?'"
For answer, 'round her waist I laid
My arm. She blushed, and smiling, said:
"Your politics, I think, Dear Fred,
Are just perfection!"

Catholic Church Statistics.

Norfolk Virginian.]

Sadler's Catholic Directory for 1890 estimates the Catholic population of the United States at 8,277,039. There are 8,332 priests, 7,523 churches, 3,302 chapels, 35 theological seminaries with 2,132 students, 102 colleges, 635 academies, 553 charitable institutions and 3,194 parochial schools with 633,238 pupils.

If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances in life, he will soon find himself alone.

How's Your Liver?

The old lady who replied, when asked how her liver was, "God bless me, I never heard that there was such a thing in the house," was noted for her amiability. Prometheus, when chained to a rock, might as well have pretended to be happy as the man who is chained to a diseased liver. For poor Prometheus there was no escape, but by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets the disagreeable feelings, irritable temper, constipation, indigestion, dizziness and sick headache which are caused by a diseased liver promptly disappear.

A Tragedy Near Garyburg.

A Weldon dispatch of Friday says: A terrible and bloody tragedy occurred near Garysburg late yesterday morning, the particulars of which reached this place today. The parties engaged in the affair were neighbors—Mr. Jessie Brantley and Mr. Thos. Portis. The scene of the tragedy was at Camp's mill, and the weapons used were a plow handle and a stick. Mr Brantley walked up to the mill where Portis was engaged in stirring the fire in the furnace of the boiler with a stick. Brantley held in his hand a new plow-handle he had purchased in Weldon the same day. The two men began to dispute about a boat, whereupon Brantley struck Portis over the head with the plow handle.

Portis ran around the engine and called for help. Brantley pursued him and struck him again. Portis then turned and dealt Brantley a terrible blow over the head with the stick he still held in his hand, crushing in the skull and knocking him senseless upon the ground. Brantley was taken to his home and physicians summoned. Dr. A. B. Zollicoffer, of this town, was telegraphed for and assisted the other physicians in removing seven pieces of broken skull-bone from the wound on Brantley's head. The hole in the skull is large enough to admit a man's hand. Brantley is still alive at this writing, but cannot possibly live. Mr. Brantley some years ago killed Mr. Jack Moody, of Northampton. Portis is much bruised, but no bones are broken, and he is not seriously injured. He received several cuts about the scalp, however, which bled profusely.

"A Roaring Farce,"

is the term we often hear applied to the modern trial-by-jury. The trial of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, by a jury of thousands of women afflicted with "female complaints," has been no farce, for it has established the fact that this remedy is a specific for all chronic weaknesses peculiar to the sex. The only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

There are now fifty-three students at the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

To a close observer of men and events it may be assumed as a foregone conclusion that the Republicans in Congress have resolved to control, by fair means or foul, not only the present but the next House of Representatives. For the first time in a number of years we find the Republicans with a majority in both branches of the National government and otherwise fortified behind a Republican President, who is nothing more or less than "a tool in the hands of his masters;" and, if their proceedings since the assembling of Congress last December be accepted as an index to their future conduct, then it is reasonable to conjecture that they will resort to whatever measures may be found necessary, honorable or dishonorable, by fraud or force or usurpation, for the accomplishment of their nefarious purposes.

What a picture we have here drawn of a party seeking and asking the suffrages of over sixty-five millions of people,—a party that shows no respect for the minority and no mercy for the country at large. In fine a party whose representatives at the Nation's capitol seem to have turned their backs on everything that is right and reasonable and adopted, as their rule of action JOHN SHERMAN'S infamous declaration that "any thing is justifiable in law or morals that is necessary for the defeat of the Democratic party;" a party whose members are playing the role of revolutionists in the extreme. Here is the Republican programe, in a nut-shell, as outlined by the Richmond Dispatch:

"They first undertook to seat before adopting any rules a number of Republican contestants of seats in the House of Representatives sufficient to make up a working majority in that body. The Speaker joined in this revolutionary plot and made it a success so far as the seating of the first contestant was concerned. Without REED'S active co-operation the scheme would have failed. But the manner in which the seating of Mr. SMITH, of West virginia, was received by the country warned the Republican conspirators in Washington that they would do well to make haste slowly in deciding contested-election cases on partisan grounds."

Indeed the low muttering thunders of discord and indignation reverberating throughout the length and breadth of the land fairly shook the dome of the capitol, beneath which this sitting at naught of constitutional rights was being carried on. Continuing the Dispatch says:

"The next scheme was to make lawful rules out of all of REED'S arbitrary rulings, and then proceed 'according to the rules' to increase the Republican majority in the House. Surely the people would not object to that. But under these rules it will be possible for the Republicans to turn out all the Democrats whose seats are contested. What then? Then a law will be enacted placing all elections to the national House of Representatives under the control of Federal officials. Finally the crowning infamy is to be a law forbidding the State legislatures to redistrict the several States for the election of Congressman, thus in Ohio, for example, insuring sixteen congressmen to the Republican minority and allowing only five to the Democratic majority. and in New York, Iowa, and other States, perpetuating a system of gerrymandering which is a mockery of our free institutions In a word, the Democrats have no rights which the Republicans are bound to respect."

Could anything be more diabolical in its inception or dangerous in its tendencies? The people who stand guard over and are jealous of their rights must answer. And while we in the South have no JEFF. DAVIS'S, or BEN. HILLS, or JOHN C. CALHOUNES to fight our battles in the "house of our fathers," yet it is a source of genuine pride and consolation to know that we have there patriots and statesmen no less devoted to our common interests than those "gone before;" men faithfully watching and zealously guarding our sacred rights and privileges, State and Nation; men whose silence is always broken when slanderous tongues are employed to villify and traduce the loyal sons and daughters of our fair sunny land, and any and all encroachments upon our rights as free-born American citizens, as the following will testify: from the lips of the Hon. CHAS. T. O'FERRALL, of Virginia, one of the ablest, manliest, and most patriotic defenses we read. He said:

* * * * *

"Sir; autocrats can never live in this land; this is no clime for them. They can never live under the rays of the sun of Constitutional liberty. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Since the head of the British tyranny was bruised no man, so far as my memory serves me, has ever until now assumed the role of dictator in any branch of this government. It has been reserved for the year 1890 and for the Fifty-first Congress of the United State to produce him.

But Sir, I am now done.

Let the finger of autocratic power in this House direct the way to those who will follow it. Let the voice of autocratic power sound through these halls and command those who may obey it; but as for me and my people I protest against this usurpation, against this outrage, against this violation of the sacred rights of the weak, against this cruel and wicked and unconstitutional violation of the rights of the minority. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Let it go out, and let all give ear to the declaration that necessity, the tyrant's plea, is offered as the only excuse for this unseemly, unprecedented and unconstitutional proceeding of him who for a brief season will preside over the deliberations of this body. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

Did I say a brief season? Yes, for as sure as a sense of justice still dwells and an inborn feeling of fair play still lives in the breasts of the American people; as sure as the citizens of this land are still jealous of their rights and look with alarm upon the slightest encroachment upon them, just so sure will the Democrats return to power in this House in the Fifty-second Congress, and there will be no usurper, autocrat, or dictator occupying the Speaker's chair and holding the gavel. [Applause on the Democratic side.]

CONCLUSION.

"Sir, Virginia has suffered indeed; her fields have been laid waist; her bosom bears many a scar. Her sons and her daughters, too, have trod the thorny path of poverty. Within her borders the owl hoots now where merry voices were once heard, and her streams murmur the memories of once happy but now desolate homesteads. She has passed through the firey furnace of reconstruction, and she has drunk to the dregs the cup of Republican misrule, but in all her history her spirit has never waned, the manhood of her sons has never weakened and she stands to day on this floor, through her representatives, as proudly as when her voice was the most potential in this land, and in spite of the august gentleman from Illinoise she protests against the assumption of power of the Speaker and the tyranny of the Republican party in this House. [Great applause.] Nay, more, Sir; the sons of Virginia feel that they are in their father's house, under their fathers roof, beneath their father's flag. In this house they intend to stay under this roof they intend to live, beneath that flag above your head, Mr. Speaker, they intend to die; and as long as they have breath they will defend the Constitution of this land against any and all foes, foreign and domestic. [Applause.] And if the gentleman from Illinoise expects less of them he will soon be made a wiser if not a better friend of the rights of the people and of the Constitution. [Renewed applause.]

It may not be amiss, in connection with what has been said, to mention here two pictures drawn by HENRY WATTERSON, in the Courier-Journal, by which he shows that the Republican party when in control of the House of Representatives has chosen the following Speakers: Schuyler Colfax, JAS. G. BLAINE, WARREN KEIFER, THOS. B. REED; that the Credit-Mobilier scandals drove COLFAX from public life; that the rulings of BLAINE, in connection with certain bills before the House, cost him the Presidential nomination by his own party three times, and defeated him when nominated; that KEIFER'S conduct in the chair disgusted his own party, and ended his political existence." While on the other hand, the Democrats, when in control of the House elected the following Speakers: MICHAEL KERR, S. J. RANDALL and J. G. CARSLILE. What is the result, and how do they compare with each other? history tells us that KERR died "from over-work" while his conduct in the Chair won for him the honest praise of friend and foe; that "RANDALL was firm, courteous and exceedingly zealous of the rights of the minority, always reflecting honor on his party"; that "CARSLILE presided with the impartiality of a Judge, free from partisan rulings;" while REED is bent on making a record that will disgrace him and his party and link his name with every deed of violence against the Constitution, and every scheme of corruption directed against the Treasury.

"BE SURE YOU ARE RIGHT, THEN GO AHEAD."

Our esteemed friend, Dr. H. T. Ivy, a native of Fayetteville, but now a resident of Peoria, Tex., sends us the following letter, published in the Galveston News of the 21st ult., and copied by permission from the original, preserved as an heirloom by Capt. S. S. Ashe, of Houston, Tex., the son of Capt. John P. Ashe, of North Carolina, to whom the letter was written. Its perusal offers proof that bitterness of party spirit is not peculiar to our day, and that there were some who did not believe that Jackson, like the king, "could do no wrong:"

WASHINGTON, N. C. Dec. 1834.

Dear Sir:—Your friendly favor Came Safe to hand—Some two or three days ago And I would have answered it before this, But I had a desire to inform you the feeling of the house upon the French question as you had a desire to know how parties Stand upon that question. There is no report made yet to either house so that I can only give you my own opinion.

When the report is made we will then see how many bloodhounds the hero of two wars will have to go with him in Involving thirteen millions of souls in war with a people that have always been our best friend, and in fact helped us to obtain the liberty we now enjoy, when we know that the executive is doing all in his power to have the appropriation, the fact is I do think this measure is too rash. If our Minister Reeves had not come home and boasted that he had overreached the French in the treaty and our papers got to Boasting about it to show that Jackson had done more than Mr. Adams could do the French could not have objected to the payment at all.

My own opinion is that the recommendation was made for no other purpose in the world than to raise an excitement to draw the Public attention from the abominable corrupt measures of the Administration. they knew if the public were to get information of inequitous acts and knew the true situation of this once happy country, it would Blow them all to the devil. I do hope the people will view the measure as it deserves. It sertainely will awaken the people if anything will. But I have almost lost all hopes from the late elections in New York and Pennsylvania. It appears that Jackson can do anything he pleases and the people will say it is right Jackson says so. I am not certain that the people will object to being transferred by Jackson over to the Political Judeas little Van. If so I have sworn for the last four years that if Vanburen is our next President I will leave the united States. I will not live under his kingdom and I see no chance to beat him at present everything appears favorable to him and I am sorry for it. I have said for the last four years that I would vote for the devil against Van and anyone under the Sun against Jackson and I have got no better yet.

I expect in a few days to be able to convey the good news to my District of the papers of my occupant land Bill. It is the first Bill that will come up and I have no fears of its passage. Every member from Tennessee that I have talked to says it will pass if so it will bless many a poor man with a home. I see that they have got out A. Huntsman and McMeanz Both and if they run Both I am of the opinion I will beat them. * * I am determined to do my duty if I should never see another congress. I must close by subscribing myself your friend and obt servant,

DAVID CROCKETT.

John P. Ashe.

The News gives the letter verbatim et punctuatim (in which we follow copy closely), and it will be observed that the redoubtable David Crockett was very anti-orthographical and anti-syntactical; but, impelled always by the guiding principle of his life, "Be sure you are right; then go ahead," he "got there," despite his atrocious grammar.

ISSUES OF THE DAY.

To-day marks an epoch in the history of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley road, as trains begin to-day to run regularly into Wilmington over this line. We are glad to be thus closely connected with the Metropolis of North Carolina.

When we remember the annoyances and inconveniences which necessarily attended a trip to Fayetteville or to Wilmington, by people of the generation that has just passed away, we regret that they could not live until the present and see the triumph that invention and enterprise have gained over the troubles that formerly beset the traveler to these cities.—Greensboro Daily Workman.

Well said, Brother Michaux; and be it said to the honor and glory of our grand old commonwealth that it was by North Carolina brains, North Carolina ingenuity and North Carolina money that this grand achievement was made; an achievement that teaches a valuable lesson and renders possible the accomplishment of things in the future hitherto considered and numbered among the impossibilities. Let us profit by the lesson thus taught.

Montgomery County on a Boom.

A gentleman from Montgomery county informs the Greensboro Patriot that Mr. John Kirk, the original purchaser of the Tebe Saunders mine, last week sold a one-half interest in it to a New York syndicate for $100,000. Kirk bought the entire tract a few weeks ago for $15,000, also that Mr. I. E. Saunders, sheriff of Montgomery, has discovered a rich gold mine on his farm near the Tebe Saunders mine about seven miles from Troy. It is said that an option for ninety days for $25,000 has been taken on the property.

National Guard Association.

Winston Daily.]

Capt. R. B. Glenn, who attended the recent meeting of the National State Guard Association at Washington, D. C., a few days ago, informs us that about 150 delegates were present and that the session was pleasantly spent. The business of most importance transacted was the framing of a bill and urging its passage for an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the equipment of the State Guards of the various States in the Union. Capt. Glenn says that if the bill passes it will give the militia of North Carolina about $20,000.

"Ramie."

Wilmington Messenger.]

The botanist of the Department of Agriculture thinks that in the ramie plant cotton has a dangerous rival. Time will show. He says:

"The ramie fibre has been prepared by a process discovered by Charles Topman, a chemist of Salem, Mass. Mr. Topman, by a secret formula, had turned the fibre into a substance resembling floss. This floss he sent to Mr. Mabbett at Providence for weaving. Mr. Topman, it seems, had been experimenting with ramie for years, like a great many other men, and only succeeded after innumbrable failures. I was sent to New England to investigate the discoveries of Messrs. Topman and Mabbett, and what I saw has convinced me that the problem of the utilization of ramie has at last been satisfactorily solved."

Very important that in all probability.

Duplin Items.

For the Observer.]

KENANSVILLE, N. C. Feb'y 14, 1890.

MESSRS EDITORS:—This has been a lively week for Duplin's county-seat. Court was opened Monday last, Judge Graves presiding. The most important and most interesting of the cases tried, was the one of Meritt vs. Mosely. The charge was malpractice in the setting of plaintiff's leg by Dr. Mosely. The good character and competency of the Doctor was abundantly proved by unimpeached witnesses. Two days were consumed by this case. The jury rendered a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Sampson was well represented in court this week: quite a number of her delegation appearing as witnesses. Among these we noted Dr. Sloan, and Messrs. A. J. Johnson and Chas. Williams.

Messrs. Oliver and R. W. Allen, E. W. Kerr, Thompson, Faison, Nixon, Nicholson, Hill, Stewart and Capt. Swift Galloway are here to attend to business in court.

We are glad to note that our Register of Deeds, Mr. Henry Moore, is again able to attend to the duties of his office.

Messrs. J. E. Sprunt and Isaac Kelly are at home for a short rest.

Mr. James Archer with his little niece, Amelia, have returned from a visit to Mr. Archer, of Charlotte.

The Sunday School convention of Duplin county convened here to-day. Mr. L. R. Carroll was elected permanent chairman. Mr. A. D. Ward secretary and treasurer. Delegates elected to the State S. S. Convention which meets in Wilmington on the 25th, 26th and 27th of this month. The convention adjourned to meet at this place March 7th.

Drapped in Mourning.

The engines on the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. are drapped in mourning out of respect to the memory of the lamented E. J. Lilly, a life-long friend and director of the Company.

A Good Selection.

At a Congregational meeting of the Presbyterian Church in this city last Sunday Messrs. A. A. McKethan, H. McD. Robinson and A. P. Johnson were elected Deacons for the ensuing year.

Good Beginning.

The register at the New Hotel LaFayette for Monday shows us an enrollment of 32 passengers, and that Mine Host Barker made a good beginning with the inauguration of the new schedule and the incoming of the first passenger train from Wilmington.

Dr. Bobbitt.

An OBSERVER reported called at the residence of Rev. Mr. Byrd Tuesday to ascertain Dr. Bobbitt's condition, and much to our delight we were informed that he was considerably improved.

A Major, Eh?

The Wilmington Morning Star of Sunday refers to our townsman, Mr. Jas. R. Williams, the genial Treasurer of the great Cape Fear & Yadkin Railway, as "Major." Now come, Jas. R., tell us what you have been doing in the City by the Sea to win such a handle to your name; give an account of yourself.

Convicts.

Two coaches well-filled with convicts, passed through the city Monday, en route to Mt. Airy, whither they go to work on the line between that point and the Virginia State line. This gap of 8 miles completed, and the entire line of the C. F. & Y. V. will be finished. The contract has been awarded and stipulates that the same be completed on or before September 1st, 1890.

Bishop of the Eastern Deociase to Visit Fayetteville Next Sunday.

The Right Rev. A. A. Watson, D. D., Bishop of East Carolina, is expected to perform the Rite of Confirmation at Christ Church, Rockfish, on Saturday evening next at 7 o'clock. He will visit St. John's Church, Fayetteville, on Sunday at 11 A. M., St. Thomas', Hybart's Hill, at 4 P. M. and St. Joseph's, Fayetteville, at 7.30 P. M. Dr. Huske's usual service at St. Thomas' will be omitted next Sunday morning.

Equal to the Occasion.

We learn that there came near being quite a serious affair at Wadesboro one day the past week; something however, which seems to be growing into a common occurrence in this State. Milton Watson, a young man who superintends the feeding of prisoners in the county jail, opened the door to make way for their supper. As the door was opened three prisoners standing in the hallway jumped at Watson with the intention of overpowering him and then make good their escape, but fortunately Watson proved himself equal to the emergency and quick as a flash drew a revolver and fired twice, wounding a prisoner named Smith, which brought the others to their senses.

First Train From Wilmington Over the C. F. & Y. V. R. R.

The First strictly passenger and mail train from Wilmington to Mt. Airy over the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad, rolled up to the magnificent passenger depot of the Company here Monday on schedule time, in charge of Capt. J. M. Walker, with J. P. Monaghan at the throttle. Quite a number of our citizens had assembled at the depot to witness the arrival of No. 22 and "welcome the coming and speed the parting guests." The event was attended with the usual activity and and commotion incident to such an occasion, though business was dispatched with all possible alacrity by the officials and others connected with the Company. Promptly on time the train pulled out for Mt. Airy with Capt. Campbell in charge, Capt. Walker remaining over here till Wednesday. Regular mail service on the line between here and Wilmington will not begin before March 3rd.

Cumberland County Sunday School Convention.

The second annual meeting of the Cumberland County Sunday School Convention met in the Hay Street M. E. Church Chapel in this city promply at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. T. P. Barclay, after which the Association proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year with the following result:

Geo. P. McNeill, President.
W. H. Holland, Vice-President.
C. H. Graham, Recording Secretary.
W. D. Gaster, Corresponding Secretary.
J. T. Winburn, Treasurer.

On motion, the above-named gentlemen were constituted the Executive Committee, with instructions to institute township or sub-conventions throughout the county.

The following delegates and alternates were then chosen to attend the State Sunday School Convention, which meets at Wilmington next Tuesday, the 25th inst.: J. A. McPherson, Geo. P. McNeill, Jas. M. Lamb, J. T. Winburn, W. J. Smith; alternates: W. D. Gaster, C. H. Graham, A. D. McGill, H. H. Bolton, Alex. Sessoms.

The various Sunday Schools of the County were well represented, and the exercises, all the way through were interesting and participated in with zeal and earnestness.

Short talks were made on various subjects by Revs. T. P. Barclay, C. W. Byrd, W. B. Oliver, E. C. Sell and Messrs. W. H. Holland, Geo. P. McNeill, J. M. Lamb, W. B. Malloy, J. T. Winburn and H. H. Bolton.

Complimentary.

As the south-bound passenger train on the C. F. & Y. V. pulled up to the new passenger depot here yesterday, a well-dressed gentleman with "flowing sideburns" and gold eye-glasses, alighted from the cars, made a few glances at the depot and remarked to a by-stander:

"What's the population of this place?"

"Anywhere between five and eight thousand," remarked the by-stander.

"No more than that?" he continued.

"I guess not," was the reply.

"Well," he continued, "you have here the handsomest, and in my judgment, the best depot south of Maryland.

"The Railroad Company evidently has a great deal of confidence in the future of your town."

Quite a compliment, this, for Fayetteville to have the best depot south of Maryland, all of which, however is true. Score one more for the Capital City of the Upper Cape Fear. A picture and full discription of the new depot will appear in our next, as we failed to get our cut in time for this week.

Excursion Rates to the State S. S. Convention.

The OBSERVER has been requested to announce that delegates to the State Sunday School Convention at Wilmington will be entitled to reduced rates over the C. F. & Y. V. Railways, Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line, Piedmont Air Line and Atlantic & N. C. R. R.

It is known as Special Excursion Tariff No. 4, and is based upon distance traveled. The longer the distance the less rate per mile.

Haigh—Smith.

On the 5th inst. Mr. Chas. T. Haigh, son of Dr. T. D. Haigh, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Clara E. Smith, of Jacksonville, Ill., the home of the bride.

Mr. Haigh is one of the "dispersed abroad" but not forgotten of the citizens of Fayetteville whose energy, talent and generous aspirations for the world's triumphs and successes sent him seeking place and fortune amid the golden possibilities of the great West.

The warm friends in the home of his childhood and youth will rejoice in this crowning of his bright manhood with God's choicest blessing to human life, breathing fervent wishes for a future of brightness undimmed and unmarred happiness.

Stanly Leads the World.

We have heard of "the old woman who lived in a shoe, and had so many children she didn't know what to do," but if we have been correctly informed, there is little doubt that Mr. David Camble, of Stanly county, is the father of more children than any other living man in North Carolina. He has only been married once, and to the union thirty-two children have been born. Fourteen boys and eleven girls are now living, and five boys and two girls being dead. Mr. Cable is eighty years old. His wife is also living.

First Excursion.

The first excursion of the season will be run by the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry over the new road from Fayetteville to Wilmington and return next Monday. A very interesting program has been arranged for the occasion and at the latter place the F. I. L. I. and W. L. I. will jointly celebrate Washington's birth day. The round trip fare has been placed at only $2.00 and Fayetteville may be counted on to be on hand almost en masse.

Work to Begin on the Wilson & Florence R. R.

We have it from an official of the Atlantic Coast Line that work on the Wilson & Florence Railroad, South of this place, will begin on or before March 1st. Our people are anxiously awaiting such action on the part of the Coast Line authorities, and will hail the event of track-laying between Fayetteville and Florence with enthusiastic delight.

False Alarm.

The fire alarm was sounded here Monday night about 1 o'clock, but up to the hour of going to press the fire had not been located.

Removed.

N. A. Sinclair, Esq., one of the popular attorneys of this place, has moved his office to room No. 4 Thornton Building.

Entertainment.

To-morrow, (Friday night) the King's Daughters ("The Ministering Tens") will have, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, refreshments—oysters, cream &c. The doors will be open to the public. The proceeds to be given the deserving poor. Don't lets us fail to give our hearty support to the praisworthy, ministering tens.

Important Meeting.

The members of the Young Men's Christian Association are asked to be present at the next regular business meeting, Friday night the 28th inst., as there is a President to re-elect, annual reports to be read and other important business to be transacted. Bear this in mind, please.

Enjoyable Entertainment.

Peterson's Panorama, at Williams Opera House last Friday night, was well-attended and largely enjoyed. The scenes in many respects were perfectly grand and taught a valuable lesson to many of those present. We understand that Mr. Peterson contemplates giving another exhibition in the near future.

New Constitution and By-Laws.

Pursuant to announcement an adjourned meeting of the Cumberland County Agricultural Society was held in the city Hall here Tuesday, at which time Col. C. W. Broadfoot submitted a new constitution and by-laws which were adopted; also the Treasurer's report. After the transaction of other routine business the meeting adjourned.

A Correction.

Mr. G. S. Deming calls our attention to a slight error made in his communication last week, and adds by way of correction:

"1st, Speaking of Mr. Worth's contract, it should read: "Where" some rails were then laid.

2nd, You make me say: "All" the citizens declared I had ruined the engine, instead of one of the citizens."

Mr. Deming also desires to correct his own error in date of arrival of first engine—which was in 1857 instead of 1847.

Resolutions of Regret.

At a meeting of the Board Directors of the Bank of Fayetteville, held on the 17th inst., the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Directors of the Bank of Fayetteville deeply deplore the recent death of EDMUND J. LILLY, Esq., who was an able and efficient member of this Board. And, while deploring their own loss, they deeply sympathize with the community at large, and especially with the family of the deceased, in the loss they have sustained by the death of so valuable a citizen and so excellent a father.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolution be spread upon the minutes of this Board; that a copy be furnished the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER for publication, and that a copy be forwarded to the family of the deceased.

After the passage of these resolutions Mr. E. J. Lilly. Jr., was unanimously elected a Director of the Bank of Fayetteville to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father.

Roddick—Sprunt.

Mr. John Roddick, a prominent young merchant of this city, led to the hymeneal altar, in Wilmington on the 12th inst., Miss Maggie Sprunt, of that city, the accomplished daughter of the late Doctor James Sprunt. We copy with pleasure the following account of the brilliant event from the Messenger of the 13th inst., and join with the many friends of the contracting parties in Fayetteville and the "City by the Sea" in wishing the happy couple a happy bon-voyage: "The First Presbyterian church of this city was crowded with a brilliant throng of people last night, drawn thither by the marriage of Mr. John Roddick, late of Wilmington but now of Fayetteville, and Miss Maggie M. Sprunt, of Wilmington. The church on the happy occasion presented a dazzling scene, lighted as it was by the several hundred are electric burners that shed their effulgence from the magnificent electrilers that swing from the apex of the beautiful edifice. The altar was elaborately decorated with geraniums and rare pot plants, and altogether the scene was an exceeding happy one.

"After the spectators had awaited until the hour of 9:30, the peal of the organ heralded the arrival of the bridal party, and as they walked up the aisle Miss Anna Sprunt, the accomplished organist, rendered the wedding march from Wagner's Lohengrin. The contracting couple were attended by Mr. Kirkland Huske and Miss Isabel Bryan, and the party were preceded by little Misses Maggie Hall and Isabel Black, who acted as flower-girls. When Mr. Roddick and Miss Sprunt had presented themselves at the altar, the marriage ceremony was impressively performed by the Rev. Dr. Peyton H. Hoge, pastor of the church. When the happy proclamation had been pronounced that made them "man and wife," the bridal party retired, while the organist played the wedding march from Tannhauser. The ushers on the occasion were Mr. W. H. Howell, of this city, and Mr. John D. Williams, Jr., (2) of Fayetteville.

"Mr. Roddick and his lovely bride left on the midnight train, and will be gone a fortnight on an extensive Northern tour. The groom is a popular young man, formerly of Wilmington, and is now a prominent merchant of Fayetteville. He has hosts of friends here who unite in wishing him and his a long and happy life."

Gibbs was thrown from a buggy by a runaway horse about one o'clock in the afternoon and thought to be seriously hurt internally. Was not conscious at the time the dispatch was sent. Mr. W. A. Stone who was with him has a leg broken.

Harnett County Railroad.

Harnett Courier.]

The stockholders of the Harnett County Railroad met in the Court-House at Lillington on Tuesday, Feb. 4th, 1890, and organized by electing Dr. John McCommic, J. P. Hodges, B. F. Shaw, L. B. Chapin. J. A. Cameron, D. H. McLeod and Wm. Person, Directors. It was ordered that a survey of the road be made from the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R. to Lillington. Dr. John McCommie was elected President, D. H. McLean, Treasurer and B. F. Shaw, Secretary.

An Episcopalian on Purgatory.

Bridgeport Farmer.]

The Rev. Milledge Walker of St. Paul's (Episcapal) Church in East Bridgeport, preached a sermon on Heaven Sunday morning that produced a deep impression upon his auditors. Among other things the Rev. Mr. Walker said that the souls of deceased persons retain bodily form, and upon entering heaven, although in a spiritual condition, appear in form and features as they did upon earth. In speaking of the realm commonly known among Catholics as purgatory, the reverend gentleman said that there is an intermediate abode where souls are prepared for admission to heaven, the term of their detention in this place being regulated according to the sins they had committed. This place Mr. Walker said, was according to his belief, not a place of punishment or torture as many believe, but the souls confined there are deprived of many of the blessings enjoyed by those in heaven. Only the souls of those who have sinned very grievously are, in Mr. Walker's opinion, condemned to eternal punishment.

A Voice From Within.

For the Observer.]

MR. EDITOR:—As the Railroad from Fayetteville to Wilmington is completed a word to the shippers of Fayetteville will not be amiss. The shippers had best not neglect the Boats on the River from the fact that they will be a check on the freights of the Railroad and the train will run if they get no freight from Fayetteville, but will the Boats is the question. Again suppose the Boats fail to share freight, could they not get a bonus from the Railroad to take no freight from Fayetteville. Some hotels are hired by others to shut up—could not boats and railroads do likewise. So let us shippers look out in time and keep up all the competition we can.

A SHIPPER.

South Carolina Letter—Important Railway Suggestions.

For the Observer.]

WEST CHESTER, S. C., Feb'y 13, '90.

EDITORS OBSERVER:—West Chester is a new station on the Georgia, Carolina & Northern Railroad. The track is to here, and the iron bridge across Broad River will soon be completed and the track will be laid on to Greenville, S. C. The grading is completed to Greenwood, and work is let out and being built on to Athens, Ga. The work between Athens and Atlanta will be let as soon as the line can be located. The road was built last year from Monroe, N. C., to Chester, S. C., and is one of the best made and equipped Railroads in the South, and, will when completed to Alanta, be a "big road.

Lee Shultz, a big railroad contractor was killed near here on the 4th of February, by a man named Morman. He had been Shultz's commissary clerk, but was not then employed. They had a falling out about a settlement, and Morman came to Shultz's camp, held his hand on pistol and cursed Shultz and then shot him just below the heart killing him instantly. Morman had that day received notice of being appointed by Mr. Harrison post master at Newberry, S. C. But that night he slept in Union county jail and came near being lynched, as the feeling ran high against him.

Now what Fayetteville needs is a railroad from Fayetteville to Monroe to connect with the C. C. and the G. C. & N. R. R's. I don't know of a local line that would pay better than one out the old Centre plank road. There is no freight that can beat naval stores and lumber, and to leave Fayetteville by Greensboro, Mr. Sessoms's place and then by Edinboro or Bethel would be a good line.

Fayetteville also needs a railroad to Durham through Harnett county, running between the two Little Rivers, and then with the Short Cut completed Fayetteville will have a bright future before her. We will leave here to-morrow, and will be camped below Greenwood. Will let you hear from me there.

With the large increase of new mills, new labor-saving machinery and a greater demand from a greater population having greater capacity to buy, cotton goods consumption has overtaken production, has exceeded it and the price in the face of a good crop has naturally advanced.

Beside the great legitimate demand from the spinning interest, speculation in Europe and America have been sagacious enough to profit by heavy purchases and even at this time, this latter element which oftentimes ignore supply, demand and prices, seems inclined toward a further upward movement.

The season began with small stock in the hands of the spinners and although our crop promised well at the beginning the larger expectations will not be realized 7,000,000 to 7,300,000 is now a conservative estimate, for no such season for marketing of the crop was ever known before.

The growth of cotton is restricted to a small section of developed country. It can only be produced by hand labor, and such labor in the cotton fields is not yearly greatly augmented as in the case in the cultivation of other products.

Cotton is a monopoly that cannot be easily overthrown except by overproduction in the climate and soil where it is grown.

All species of agriculture are much depressed on account of low prices. Cotton is the only exception, and the Southern planters can congratulate themselves that they begin the new year so hopefully, for they alone can produce now, a crop worth $300,000,000 that is readily marketable all over the world.

NORTH CAROLINA

Car Service Association,

RALEIGH, N. C., January 15th, 1890.

To all Consignors and Consignees of Freight:

A serious loss and much inconvenience have been caused, both to shippers and railroad companies, by the unnecessary detention of cars in loading and unloading freights. Shippers are often unable to procure cars, tracks are encumbered, and the speedy movement of freight is impossible under the practices that have prevailed. The railroad companies feel obliged, therefore, to endeavor to correct this evil, and have issued the notice printed below

The system thus established has been in force at a number of important points during the past year, with advantageous results in every instance. The amount charged is not sufficient to recompense the companies for the use of their cars, tracks, etc., for warehouse purposes, and is not collected for the purpose of revenue, but for the prevention of abuses which affect the public and the transportation lines.

The rules will be enforced without discrimination by the North Carolina Car Service Association, which will act for all interests alike.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that on and after March 1st, 1890, cars remaining unloaded forty-eight (48) hours, after being placed for delivery, shall be subject to a charge of one dollar ($1.00) per day, or fraction thereof for detention of cars and use of tracks.

If cars be consigned to private sidings, and such sidings be already full, or if consigned to general delivery tracks, and the prompt placing of cars be prevented by the presence of cars belonging to the same consignee held under load for more than forty-eight (48) hours, it shall be considered that they have been placed for delivery at the time of arrival at the yard or siding where held.

Forty-eight (48) hours will be allowed for loading empty cars after being placed in position, after which time the Car Service rate of one dollar ($1.00) per day, or fraction thereof, for detention and use of tracks will apply.

Sundays and legal holidays are excepted in the computation of time of detention of cars and use of tracks.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy

—NEVER FAILS TO CURE—

SCROFULA.

EFFO, PERSON CO., N. C.

I used Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy on a negro boy living at my house, who had been afflicted from an infant. All who saw the boy at the time he commenced the Remedy thought he could live but a few days. He was totally unable to walk a step, having four or five large running sores which were very offensive. The inside of his mouth and his tongue were perfectly raw, lips so swollen they appeared to be turned outwards and were also raw; both eyes had been closed for weeks. The boy is now well; was in the tobacco field a few days ago at work. Eight bottles of Remedy made this cure, and it has been a year since he was cured.

THE HARP OF TOM MOORE.

[At the Scotch-Irish Congress, May 8, 1889, Columbia, Tennessee.]

BY WALLACE BRUCE, OF NEW YORK.

The top of the morning to Ireland
And the Scotch-Irish Congress to-day!
All hearts respond at the banquet
When the Harp of Tom Moore leads the way.
The bells of the Shandon are ringing
Their music from over the sea,
But sweeter the Harp of her poet
In the mountains of old Tennessee.

The sons of the Shamrock and Thistle
Still cherish the visions of yore,
And the Harp of Old Tara awakens
Again to the voice of Tom Moore;
Each string, with memories sacred,
Is tuned to Liberty's key;
And the songs that float down the ages
Are always the songs of the free.

It sings of the "Exile of Erin,"
But her exiles are exiles no more,
For the Isle of old Erin has drifted
Close under Columbia's shore.
"Where liberty is, is my country"
Has guided her over the way,
And Columbia holds in her borders
The heart of old Ireland to-day.

Manhattan and Plymouth and Jamestown
Can boast of their heritage true,
But Mecklenburg's fame is immortal
When we number the stars in the blue;
The Scotch-Irish Puritan fathers
First drafted the words of the free,
And the speech of Virginia's Henry
Is the crown of our liberty's plea.

The sons and grandsons of heroes
Who fought for freedom and right
With joy hail the dawn of the morning—
'Mavourneen!" Awake to the light!
The maidens of Lorne and Kilarney
Are swelling the chorus to-day,
For the castles of Oban and Blarney
Are only just over the way.

Then welcome, a thrice hearty welcome,
To legendry, lyric and lore,
With a pledge and "Guild Hielin' welcome"
To the voice and the Harp of Tom Moore;
A toast to the Shamrock and Thistle,
And sunshine both sides of the sea,
As Erin clasps hands o'er the ocean
With Columbia in fair Tennessee.

The Prosperous Farmer.

Old Homestead.]

When lights are seen burning in his house before the break of day—in winter, especially—it shows that the day will never break for him upon the bleak winter of adversity.

When you see him drive his work, instead of his work driving him, it shows that he will never be driven from the work of industry, and that he will certainly win his way to prosperity.

When he has a shed especially for ashes, separated from the main building, and an iron or tin vessel in which to convey the ashes, it shows that he never builds his dwelling as a funeral pyre for himself, his wife and children.

When his hog-pen is boarded outside and in, it shows that he is "going the whole hog or none," in keeping plenty inside his house and poverty out.

When his vehicles, carts and farming implements are sheltered and protected, both summer and winter, it shows that he will have a good house over his head in the summer of early life and in the winter of old age.

When his cattle are properly housed in winter, it show that he is mindful of the Scriptural injunction that "the merciful man is merciful to his beast."

Starting Early Potatoes.

New England Homestead.]

For several years it has been my practice to start our early potatoes in the following manner: The potatoes are cut as usual for planting. After covering the bottom of a shallow box with a layer of horse manure and then a layer of earth, place a layer of cut potatoes carefully, covering with sand, and so continue until the box is filled. Put it in a warm place and water occasionally; and when the ground is warm enough for planting they are ready to set out, well-rooted and sprouted. In this way potatoes may be obtained at least two weeks earlier than those planted in the usual way—and this year, when so many are obliged to buy, it will be an object to grow them as soon as possible. The directions by which I was guided recommended a barrel instead of a box for use, but the sprouts of those near the bottom of the barrel were too long to set out.

Rules for Successful Farming.

Drain and irrigate.
Plough deep and loosen the subsoil.
Provide good storage-room for solid manure, and cisterns for liquid manure.
Choose commercial fertilizers intelligently, and do not use one in excess of another, simply because others do so.
Manure every crop which benefits by it, and manure highly.
Cultivate only safe, paying crops, and select the best seed for the soil.
Cultivate all the field crops, and in their proper rotation.
Cultivate more and better forage.
Feed plentifully, and of the best forage.
Breed good stock, and let no mere accident prevent it.
Support breeding and feeding by the proper care.

Home-Mixed Fertilizers.

The Connecticut Experiment Station has made quite extensive analyses of home-mixed fertilizers—that is, those made by farmers who bought raw materials, and mixed them at home—and has found that they compare favorably in all respects with the best mixtures thrown on the market by manufacturers. The fertilizers cost the farmers 20 to 25 per cent. less than the same quality of market mixtures, allowing $3 a ton as the cost of mixing. Individuals may not find this to be always the case, because of lack of facilities and the extra cost of transportation in small quantities; but what is there to hinder granges, farmers' clubs and other organizations from buying the materials by the car-load, and then mixing them at some convenient point, in a wholesale way, thus saving the first profit on the mixture?

Good Farming.

James Thomas, of Mecklenburg county, raised last year, with one mule, 15 bales of cotton, of 500 lbs. each, 53 bushels of wheat and 125 bushels of corn, besides fruits, vegetables, etc.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The World Moves!
Get Up and Ride!!

When the Big Guns in the Dry Goods trade, who are supposed to buy their goods on long time, insist on selling everything to everybody for strict cash, we think it is time for us heathen, who have to pay cash and cash only for our goods before we can ever see them, to follow in their illustrious footsteps.

It is a well-known fact that all dealers in Grain are compelled by the commercial law of the times to pay for their supplies before they can get them, however much such dealers may be worth, or however they may be.

CASH

GOOD

We have decided therefore to adopt the same rule in selling that we have to abide by in buying. In our case, this should always have been the rule. The unbusiness-like methods of others being our only excuse for wrong-doing, we trust that all of our patrons will "catch on" to the "new departure," and show their appreciation of our endeavors in the past to please them, by continuing to give us their patronage.

Recollect that we sell you

Meal and Feed
AT THE ACTUAL COST
of the unground material.

We also hold that to endeavor to do a

Hand to Hand Cash Trnasaction

with every purchase is not only impracticable but also unbusiness-like, and we wish it distinctly understood that accounts with parties of a known place of business, that are always promptly paid on presentation without any foolishness, is in our opinion cash.

Respectfully,
